Local Ophthalmology Practice Grows
SLO Eye Associates Expands Team and Launches New Website

SAN LUIS OBISPO, CA – In an effort to provide patients with the best possible comprehensive eye care, local ophthalmology practice, San Luis Obispo Eye Associates (SLOEYE) recently expanded their team of highly experienced physicians by bringing on Dr. Terry Kaiura, MD, a board certified ophthalmologist specializing in cornea and external disease, keratorefractive surgery and comprehensive ophthalmology.

After graduating magna cum laude from the University of California, Los Angeles and receiving her medical degree with honors in research from Cornell University Medical College, Dr. Kaiura completed a fellowship in cornea, external disease and refractive surgery at the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary. Following her fellowship training, she joined the academic faculty as an assistant professor training residents, teaching, and lecturing. She is a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and the American Society of Cataract and Refractive Surgery and is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

Also joining the SLOEYE team is new Practice Administrator, Ed Laski bringing with him over 35 years of executive management experience. Laski has owned and operated several small businesses including a mortgage banking company, an insurance agency and a medical supply company. “I have always had interest in medical practice management and am delighted to have the opportunity to work with the prestigious team of doctors at SLO Eye Associates,” said Laski.

SLOEYE recently launched a new website, www.SloEyeMD.com to offer the community and SLOEYE patients an abundance of online resources relating to eye health care and eye disease. By visiting the website, patients can also view appointment information, a FAQ page, refill their prescription, and browse designer lenses on the Optical Shop page.

Established in 1995 by the merging of three successful ophthalmology subspecialty practices on the Central Coast, San Luis Eye Associates offers a full range of eye care services, experienced specialists who are leaders in their fields, state-of-the-art equipment, and the latest techniques in eye care. Visit them online at www.SloEyeMD.com.
